TESTIMONIAL: MARIA KASMIRLI

Ms Maria Kasmirli has worked in our school as a teacher for the past three consecutive school years. More specifically, during the first two school years she took the English section 5th grade class (equivalent to grade 6 in the UK), while in the current school year she took the 3rd grade class. Ms Kasmirli works extremely conscientiously, demonstrating high professional responsibility.

As a teacher on yearly contracts, she participated in the prescribed selection procedures for the school of European Education and was selected among many other candidates on the basis of her formal qualifications.

Ms Kasmirli is a highly capable, efficient, and intelligent educator and collaborator, renowned for her ethos, team spirit, and willingness to cooperate with her colleagues. She has the organizational skills and flexibility to address a variety of difficult situations and to manage change. With high ethical standards and innate kindness she maintains a high level of cooperation with the parents of her students.

Maria carries out the enormously complex and demanding duties of a teacher with professionalism, conscientiousness, practical devotion, zeal, and dedication, always working at a high level of educational professionalism. She is creative and innovative, always ready to propose, undertake, and support fresh educational approaches, which she carries out enthusiastically and effectively and completes consistently, conscientiously, and always with the best interests of the children in mind – thereby enhancing and enriching the teaching profession.

In addition, for all three school years Maria has been subject head for Ethics (Ethics coordinator), and in the current school year and she has also taken on the role of Maths subject head (Mathematics coordinator).

Furthermore, she has taken charge of the process of Integration, in which Inclusion forms a large part, and in which role she organizes related school projects such as Europe Day, etc.

Finally, during her first year of service to our school Ms Kasmirli was in charge of the school's pedagogical team which collaborated with other schools in Europe under the European Comenius program.

In short, Ms Kasmirli is a highly honest, creative, and effective person.
